

The Benedictine Archabbey in Pannonhalma

Perched on St. Martin's Hill, the Benedictine Monastery of Pannonhalma occupies a location first settled in 996 by the Benedictine monks of Royal Prince Géza, father of St. Stephen, Hungary's first king. The church and monastery on the original site have been renovated on numerous occasions through the centuries.

We are there for you:

Phone: 0036.30.2125651

Cecilia.Kollar@contacttours.hu

www.contact-incentives.hu