

Hollók

The village of Hollók is around 100 km from Budapest and has maintained the traditional village structure from the middle ages, namely small plots of land at right angles to a single long street. At the heart of the settlement is the small village church erected on a small “traffic island” in 1889. The 60 protected buildings of the village are typical peasant houses comprising three well separated rooms.

We are there for you:

Phone: 0036.30.2125651

Cecilia.Kollar@contacttours.hu

www.contact-incentives.hu