The three capitals of Lake Balaton

Siófok – The birthplace of Emmerich Kalman, composer of the famous operetta “Csárdás Princess“, offers visitors tourist infrastructure of the highest quality, including new wellness hotels, pleasant promenades, varied cuisine and a vast array of excursion options.

Keszthely – The top attraction – apart from the waterfront – of this centre of western Balaton is the stately Festetics Castle, built in the first half of the 18th century. Having survived even WWII in good condition, the castle now houses a museum incorporating the baroque library. Visitors will also find an interesting exhibition of horse-drawn carriages in the former stables.

Balatonfüred – Valued not only for its beautiful location, but also as a source of carbonated water, Füred has been a popular spa town ever since the early 19th century. A sanatorium, therapeutic springs and the elegant villas of artists all hark back to a time of sophisticated bathing culture. The Mediterranean atmosphere of the harbour promenade and waterfront enjoys a special place in the hearts of Hungarian holidaymakers.
